

Hanoi Street Eats

📍 Hoi An, Vietnam

Shared | Half-Day | Food

Set off on a culinary adventure, revelling in the flavours of northern Vietnam on this evening street food tour through the alleys of Hanoi's Old Quarter. Meet your local guide at the quaint Café Nang, before exploring a local night market. Get engrossed in the bustling vibe and array of goods on display and set off to discover the culinary gems that lie within the maze of bylanes. Stop by a stall selling one of Vietnam's most iconic dishes – Pho. Slurp up a bowl of beefy goodness before grabbing a stool at neighbouring Bia Corner; enjoy sipping on fresh draft beer and watch as the busy street comes to life in the evening.

Continue meandering through the Old Quarter and witness the transformation of the neighbourhood with stalls of all types popping up for the nighttime trade. Try local delicacies such as Banh Cuon - savoury steamed rice rolls with wood ear mushroom and pork, freshly grilled chicken wings and other snacks to satisfy all types of cravings.

Finish off an evening of culinary decadence by devouring a classic Vietnamese sandwich and a cold local brew – delight!
